MAPS OF WORLD LAUNCHES A NUMBER OF NEW PRODUCTS

New Delhi, 17 November 2007: MapsofWorld.com, one of the few websites that provides users with a comprehensive and fascinating overview of the world, announces the launch of a number of new products. Being one of the most user-friendly sites that have attracted internet-surfers all over the world, its new product, 'Flights To' caters to the needs of all. It covers almost all the destinations, to where flights operate from various parts of the world. The 'Flights To' project is of great help to travelers who can now choose an easy route for comfortable travel.

Another product (beta version) launched recently is a map-based application called "Same Place Different Location". Here one can find the location as well as information related to those places across the globe, which bear same name but are located in different parts of the world. Through this, one can also become acquainted with a number of other places with similar names as the one being searched for.

Apart from these Mapsofworld has also come up with Quiz.Mapsofworld, Maps Of World Archive, Testimonials, Knowledge Byte, USA Distance Calculator, Table Of US Highway Routes and On the Face Feedback. In a nutshell the website is gearing up to become the next big thing in the Internet space. Apart from these, coming up in near future, are many other unique products like Media kit, Business Model, Maps of World videos, Maps of World Blogs, Maps of World TV, etc.

To enrich ones information bank and receive facts on varied aspects, all one needs to do, is just subscribe to the "Knowledge Byte of the Day" and get one interesting fact everyday in one's mail box.

In Quiz.MapsofWorld, one experiences a rush of adrenaline with the timer ticking away and a set of brain testing questions that keep one curious till the end. While Mapsof World Archive explores the journey of this website since its launch in 2003, the Testimonials display the love, admiration and praise that is showered on this portal by its visitors.
